Dear Friend of RSABI

An Audience with Adam Henson

RSABI is delighted to welcome Adam Henson, courtesy of Bank of Scotland Agriculture, as special guest at a Reception for our Supporter Scheme on Friday 6th October 2017 at Forrester Park Resort (Pitdinnie Farm), Cairneyhill, Fife.

As you know RSABI provides practical support and financial assistance to individuals and their families throughout the agricultural sector. Given the tough times facing farming we are currently growing our supporter membership and appealing to working farm businesses, agricultural companies and organisations to proudly support us as new members.

As a friend of the charity, please consider joining us at this special occasion with a view to joining the supporter scheme on the day. In recent years RSABI has experienced a surge in demand for services, at an average cost to the charity of £500,000 per year. So regular supporter income is crucial to RSABI to continue to support people in Scottish agriculture, to plan ahead and to keep delivering. There is no upfront charge for this special event with guests kindly invited to show their support for membership on the day.

Event programme: 1.30pm to 4pm

- Drinks reception and welcome from RSABI
- Adam's address followed by Q&A
- A word from Sandy Hay, Bank of Scotland
- Refreshments including a Cream Tea (Adam will circulate, speaking personally to each table of guests)

The RSABI team are very much looking forward to welcoming you to this fantastic venue.

With warm best wishes,

John Kinnaird

RSABI Chairman

"Thank you for supporting the important work undertaken by the charity – RSABI deserves all our help and I know the supporter income will be put to good use". Adam Henson
